MARYLAND HOME HEALTH AGENCY STATISTICAL PROFILE: FISCAL YEAR 2002 HIGHLIGHTS

INTRODUCTION

The Maryland Home Health Agency Statistical Profile: Fiscal Year 2002 summarizes data on the utilization and financing of home health agency services. The data provided in this report was obtained from the information collected by the Maryland Health Care Commission's Home Health Agency Annual Report for fiscal year 2002. This data collection effort is designed to obtain a uniform data set from all home health agencies licensed to serve Maryland jurisdictions.¹ The Commission's Annual Report Survey requests information on overall agency operations and the demographic characteristics, payer types, and services provided to Maryland clients by their jurisdiction of residence.

This Statistical Profile provides an overview of home health agency characteristics, utilization, and costs including: volume of admissions; referral sources; primary diagnosis on admission; length of care; average visits per Medicare client; disposition; average cost per visit; revenues by payer type; and home health agency personnel. Data provided on Maryland resident use of home health care include age group, unduplicated clients by payer type, and visits by payer type. Detailed tables summarizing agency and jurisdiction-specific data are provided in Appendix A. Technical notes on the scope of the report, the data sources, and definition of terms are included in Appendix B.

¹ In Maryland, there are various types of home care services provided to ill persons in their own place of residence. The range of home care services includes, but is not limited to, home health agencies (HHAs), residential service agencies (RSAs), nurse staffing agencies and nursing referral service agencies. This statistical profile is for licensed home health agencies only, as defined by COMAR 10.07.10.

MARYLAND HOME HEALTH AGENCY STATISTICAL PROFILE: FISCAL YEAR 2002 HIGHLIGHTS

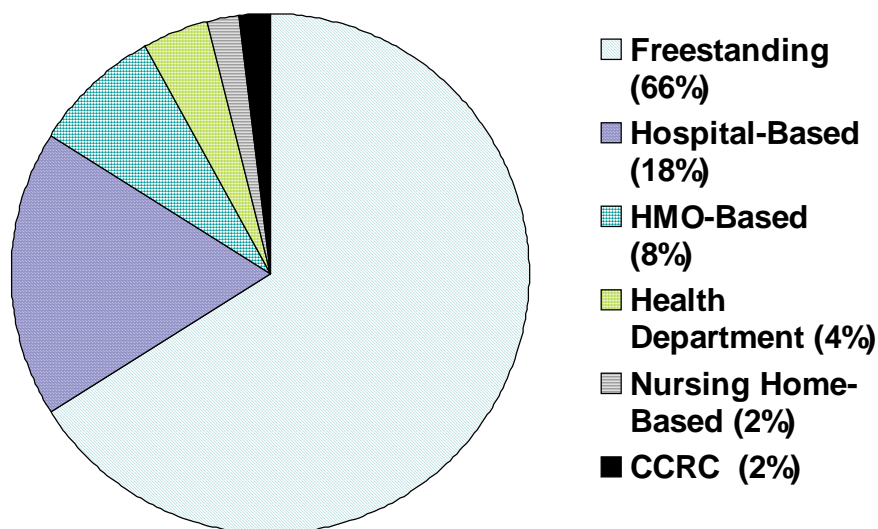

OVERVIEW OF HOME HEALTH AGENCY CHARACTERISTICS AND UTILIZATION

Agency Type and Ownership

Statewide, 50 home health agencies (HHAs) were licensed to serve Maryland jurisdictions in fiscal year 2002. Of these, one home health agency did not have Medicare certification. Seven of the remaining 49 Medicare-certified HHAs had a bifurcated license to operate non-Medicare or private entities.

About two-thirds of the 50 agencies were freestanding (refer to Figure 1). Hospital-based agencies accounted for 9 of the 50 Maryland home health agencies; one agency was nursing home-based; and one agency was part of a continuing care retirement community (CCRC). There were two agencies operated by county health departments in Baltimore County and Garrett County in fiscal year 2002. Four home health agencies were operated by a health maintenance organization in fiscal year 2002.

Maryland, Fiscal Year 2002

Data reported on agency ownership in fiscal year 2002 indicate that both private for-profit and private non-profit agencies had equal representation, each with 24 agencies and representing 48 percent, with a combined total of 96 percent of the total 50 licensed home health agencies. The remaining two agencies or four percent of the total licensed agencies were operated by government agencies (local county health departments).

Volume of Admissions

In fiscal year 2002, agencies licensed in Maryland reported a total of 103,921 admissions for home health agency care. As shown in Table 1, which summarizes the distribution of admissions by agency type in fiscal year 2002, freestanding agencies accounted for the greatest proportion of home health agency admissions. This is due to the fact that about two-thirds of Maryland's home health agencies were freestanding.

Referral Sources for Home Health Agencies

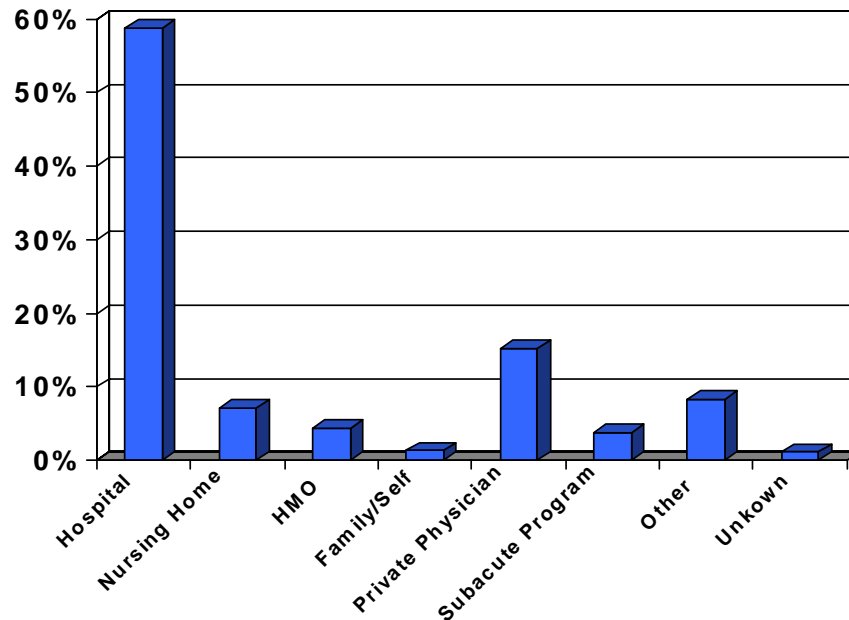

About 59 percent of fiscal year 2002 admissions were referred to home health agency care by hospitals (refer to Table 2). Referrals to home health agencies by private physician offices accounted for 15 percent of home health agency admissions. The remaining admissions were referred by nursing homes (7.15 percent), HMOs (4.34 percent), subacute care programs (3.84 percent), family/self/friends (1.33 percent), and other referral sources (8.28 percent) (refer to Figure 2). The source of referral was reported as unknown for 1.11 percent of fiscal year 2002 admissions.

Average Length of Care (Days) per Home Health Client and Average Visits per Medicare Home Health Client

On average, clients were under home health agency care for 36.9 days (refer to Table 3). The length of home health care by agency type ranged from an average of 39.5 days (as reported by freestanding agencies) to 26.9 days (as reported by four HMO-based agencies) in fiscal year 2002. Overall, home health agencies licensed and Medicare-certified in Maryland reported an average of 16.1 visits per Medicare client in fiscal year 2002. The volume of visits per Medicare client ranged from a high of 19.8 for HMO-based agencies, to a low of 12.0 for the two government county health department agencies.

Primary Diagnosis on Admission

The number of clients by selected primary diagnostic category on admission is summarized in Table 4 and Figure 3. All circulatory system diseases combined accounted for the largest volume of clients reported in the Home Health Agency Annual Report for fiscal year 2002. Clients with circulatory system diseases accounted for 19.11 percent of all home health agency clients. Within the overall category of circulatory system diseases, clients with ischemic heart disease on admission for home health agency care accounted for 4.77 percent. Other leading circulatory system diseases receiving home health agency care included cerebrovascular disease (4.44 percent) and pulmonary/hypertensive heart disease (1.40 percent).

Musculoskeletal system diseases and injuries/fractures were the second and third leading causes of admission for home health agency care, respectively, during fiscal year 2002. Clients with a disease of the musculoskeletal system accounted for 13.59 percent of home health agency clients. Fractures/injuries represented 11.26 percent of total home health agency clients in fiscal year 2002.

Other leading primary diagnoses on admission for home health agency clients included: neoplasms (6.49 percent); respiratory system diseases (5.47 percent); conditions in the perinatal period (3.90 percent); complications of pregnancy (3.11 percent); diabetes mellitus (3.10 percent); and, postpartum care and exams (0.80 percent).

Disposition on Discharge from Home Health Agency

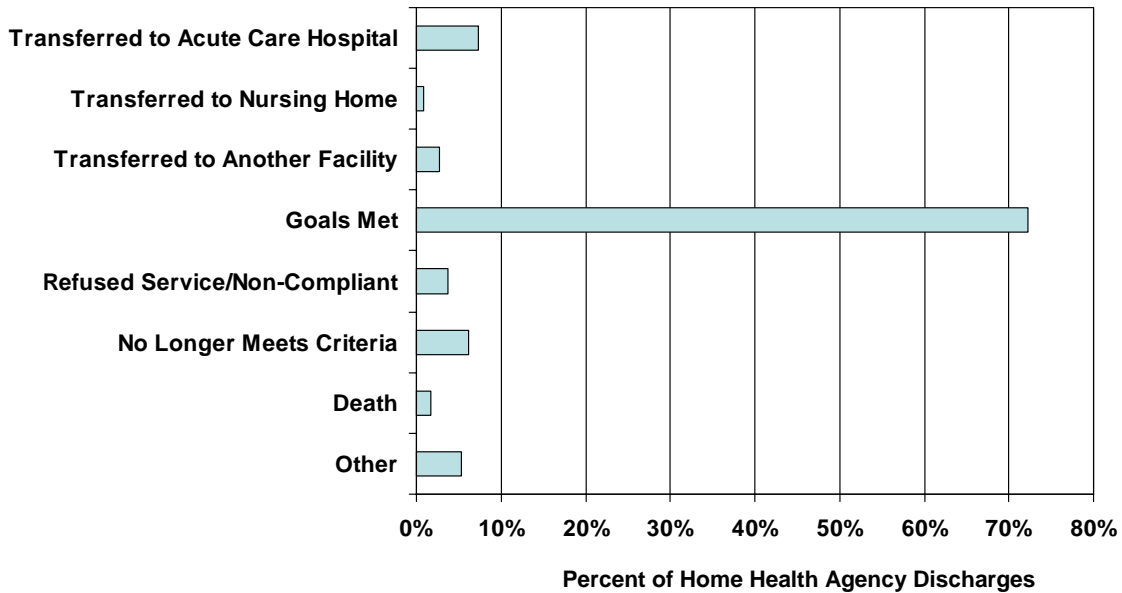

Data reported in the Home Health Agency Annual Report for fiscal year 2002 indicate that the vast majority (72.24 percent) of all clients were discharged with home health care goals met (Refer to Table 5 and Figure 4). Clients who no longer met criteria for home health agency care (including no longer homebound, requiring skilled nursing care, or denied benefits) accounted for 6.16 percent of total discharges from home health agency care. Transfers to acute care hospitals accounted for 7.3 percent of total discharges. Transfers to other health care facilities (including nursing homes, chronic hospitals, rehabilitation facilities, or hospice) or to another home health agency accounted for 3.52 percent of total discharges. The disposition of the remaining discharges from home health agencies were: death (1.74 percent); client refused services (2.62 percent); client was non-compliant (1.07 percent); and other (5.36 percent).

"Billable visits" include any personal contact in a client's place of residence for the purpose of providing one or more covered services, including skilled nursing care, physical therapy, speech/language therapy, occupational therapy, medical social work, or home health aide services.

"Non-billable visits" refer to those visits made for the purpose of evaluation prior to the acceptance of a home health client for care or those made to supervise caretaker staff. This term also applies to visits where the patient was not at home and those visits are not chargeable to the client, including charity care visits.

APPENDIX B
TECHNICAL NOTES

TECHNICAL NOTES

Scope of the Report

This report provides data for the 50 home health agencies licensed under COMAR 10.07.10 to provide services in Maryland during fiscal year 2002. In Maryland, there are various types of home care services provided to sick or disabled persons in their own place of residence. The range of home care services includes, but is not limited to, home health agencies (HHAs), residential service agencies (RSAs), nurse staffing agencies, and nursing referral service agencies. The Maryland Health Care Commission regulates through its Certificate of Need (CON) program only one of these entities, that is, home health agencies. Therefore, this statistical profile is for licensed home health agencies (HHAs) only, as defined by COMAR 10.07.10. Data on other agencies that provide services in the home, such as residential service agencies (RSAs), nurse staffing agencies, and nursing referral service agencies, that are not licensed under COMAR 10.07.10 as HHAs, are excluded from this report.

Maryland's licensing statute defines "home health agency" as "a health-related institution, organization, or part of an institution that: (1) is owned or operated by one or more persons, whether or not for profit and whether as a public or private enterprise; and (2) directly or through a contractual arrangement, provides to a sick or disabled individual in the residence of that individual, skilled nursing services, home health aide services, and at least one other home health care service that are centrally administered."² Only home health agencies meeting requirements under Maryland licensure regulation, COMAR 10.07.10.02, may be certified to receive Medicare reimbursement.

The data summarized in this report include both general and specialty home health agencies. Specialty home health agencies can provide: 1) services exclusively to the pediatric population; 2) an array of services exclusively to a population group limited by the nature of its diagnosis or medical condition; 3) to all population groups a highly limited set of services that can offer acceptable quality only through specialized training of staff and an adequate volume of experience to maintain specialized skills; or 4) services exclusively to the residents of a specific continuing care retirement community (CCRC). General home health agencies refer to a home health agency that provides a full range of home health services not restricted as a specialty home health agency.

Data Source

Under COMAR 10.07.11, licensed home health agencies in Maryland are required to submit an annual report in the format prescribed by the Secretary of the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene. Section 11D of these regulations requires that the report be submitted within 90 days of the close of the agency's fiscal year. The Home Health Agency Annual Report survey, conducted by the Maryland Health Care Commission, constitutes the format prescribed by the Secretary. The Annual Report is organized in two parts. Part I of the Annual Report survey requests information pertaining to the overall operation of the agency, including: agency type; volume of admission; source of referrals; disposition of clients; average visits per Medicare clients; average length of care; total visits and average cost per visit by discipline; number of clients and visits by primary diagnosis on admission; and net revenues by payer type. Part II of the Annual Report survey requests information on the demographic characteristics and use of home health agency services for the clients served in each Maryland jurisdiction.

Fiscal Year 2002 Reporting Periods

Not all of Maryland's home health agencies have the same 12-month fiscal year period. The fiscal year 2002 reporting periods included in this report have end dates ranging from February 28, 2002 to December 31, 2002. The following table outlines agencies' fiscal year reporting period ending dates and number of corresponding agencies:

Fiscal Year Report Period Ending Dates	Number of Home Health Agencies
February 28, 2002	2
June 30, 2002	28
September 30, 2002	1
December 31, 2002	19
TOTAL	50

Given the various fiscal year report period ending dates for home health agencies in Maryland, the first fiscal year in which all home health agencies were operating for a full 12-month period under Medicare's new Prospective Payment System is fiscal year 2002.³

Number of Home Health Agencies

Historically, the Commission has collected data from all home health agencies, including, where applicable, the branches of each licensed HHA, as well as the non-Medicare entity for those agencies with bifurcated licenses. In that regard, the number of home health agencies reflected the data reported to the Commission. However, Maryland's Department of Health and Mental Hygiene's Office of Health Care Quality (OHCQ), responsible for issuing the actual license for each HHA, grants each HHA a single license. Thus, there had been some inconsistency with the way that the Commission would "count" agencies as compared to the way that OHCQ would "count" agencies. The Home Health Agency Statistical Profile for Fiscal Year 2002 presents the number of agencies consistent with OHCQ, and combines the applicable data for those HHA's branches and non-Medicare entities, as appropriate.

³ Significant modifications to the Medicare program, especially for home health, were addressed in the Balanced Budget Act (BBA) of 1997. The BBA provided for the establishment of a Prospective Payment System for all costs of home health services, and, during the development of PPS, made immediate, incremental changes to Medicare's cost-based reimbursement system in an Interim Payment System (IPS) which took effect October 1, 1997. The IPS was replaced with Medicare's new Prospective Payment System (PPS) which went into effect October 1, 2000. Given the various fiscal year reporting periods, certain Maryland home health agencies were straddling their 12-month reporting periods for fiscal years 2000 and 2001 between Medicare's IPS and PPS reimbursement methods.

Calculation Adjustments

There were three agencies which incorrectly reported data on the number of clients by primary diagnosis (Carroll Home Care, Lutheran Home Care Services, and TLC Staff Builders-Baltimore). These agencies mistakenly reported multiple diagnoses for their clients. Therefore, an adjustment to the data was made by redistributing the actual total number of clients by the same percentage distribution as the number of clients reported by primary diagnosis. This calculation adjustment was conducted in order to more accurately reflect the number of home health agency clients by primary diagnosis category on admission.

Definition of Terms

1. Admission – the acceptance of a client for home health agency services.
2. Bifurcated License - the type of license held by a home health agency that has both a Medicare-certified entity and a private or non-Medicare entity.
3. Client – a recipient of home health agency services.
4. Duplicated Data – means that a client will be counted more than once if he/she was admitted more than one time during the fiscal year reporting period.
5. Full-Time Equivalent (FTE) Personnel – refers to an employee or independent contractor who worked 2,080 hours during the fiscal year reporting period.
6. Unduplicated Data – means that the client should be counted only once during the fiscal year reporting period.
7. Visit – refers to any personal contact provided to a client in their place of residence by: a health worker; home health agency staff; or, contractual agreement with the home health agency. It should be further noted that if both a physical therapist and a nurse provide home services on the same day, it is counted as two visits. However, if a nurse provides multiple care during a visit, it is counted as one visit. Includes all visits made during the reporting period.
